To Miss Marie Campbell:

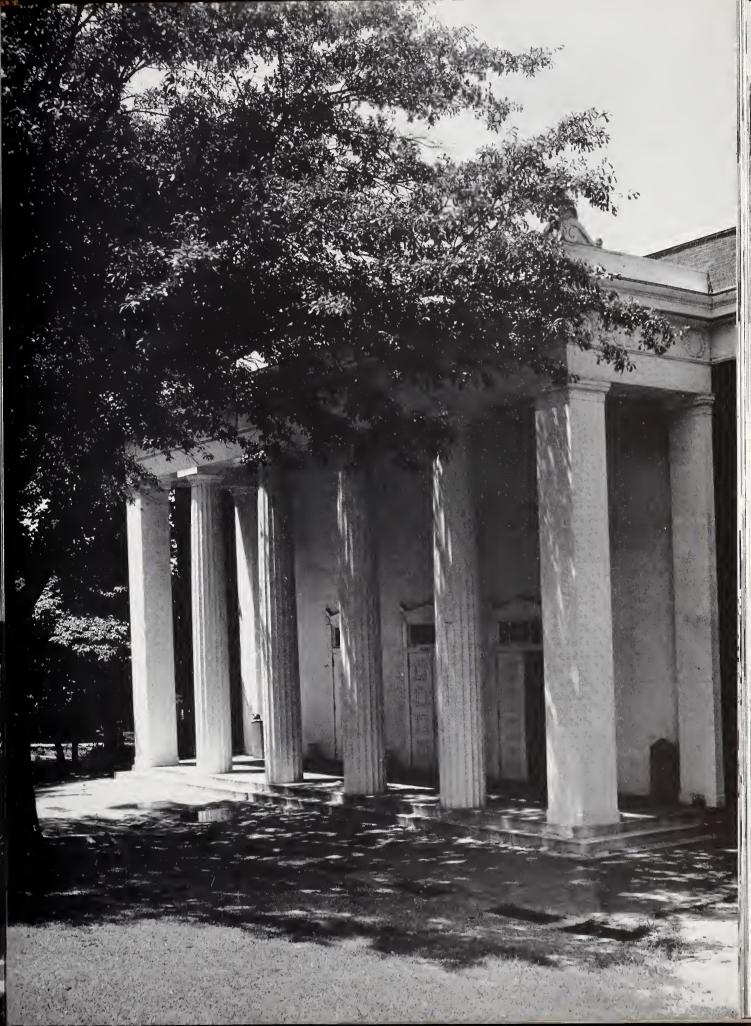

For her conscientious work with the students,
For her invaluable help with our activities,
For her ability to create interest in great literature,
And for her friendliness which we so treasure,
We dedicate the 1951 Chieftain.

THE ADMINISTRATION

At West Georgia College you will find a group of people whom the students look to for guidance and understanding.

These people are known, respected, and genuinely liked and admired because they are teachers of individuals rather than teachers of just subject matter. With their sympathetic understanding and wise counsel, they have guided us through this year.

It is with great respect and pleasure that we present THE FACULTY of West Georgia College.

By TRACY STALLINGS

"The only way to attain peace is through faith in the United Nations," concluded Dr. Richard Michael when he spoke to West Georgia students in chapel last Tuesday about the structure of the United Nations and the pre-sent prospects for peace.

Dr. Michael began his speech with a terse description of the world situation at the present. "To put it mildly," he said, "the world is in an utter state of confusion."

In relation to the Korean conflict, Dr. Michael posed the question of whether intervention was necessary when the North Koreans invaded. This question he answered with an emphatic yes. "We might get pushed into the sea." We said, "but if the function of the UN was to be carried out, it was necessary to intervene."
